TARGETS FOR EXPERTS

all of the work required much more cheaply.

One of Admiral Magnuder's charges which never was disputed was based on the annual report of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, for the facal year 1926 and showed that for every dollar expended for repairs on ships it was necessary to spend 44 to maintain the mavy yard to make the repairs.

Maintenance slone at the Brooklyn mary yard cost the excapayers approximately $2,500,000 during the last faceal year, and virtually all of its activities could have been turned over to private contractors at substantial savings. It is frequently asserted.

LOG-ROLLING RESULTS

Many of the yards and stations built at great cost, and which subsequently proved of little or no value to the Navy, are the result of Congressmen to see money spent in great public works in their districts. For instance, hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent to build a coaling dock and plant at Port Royal, B. C., which never has been used; one of the largest Boating dry docks with a 15,000-ton capacity is tied up at New Orleans, where it cannot be used; and millions of dollars are spent annually in the maintenance of the Mare Ialand navy yard in California on such shallow water that the larger vessels of the Navy cannot use it.

FOOTBALL BACKWARDNESS ALIFORNIA and University of Southern California finished the season in a tie for the championship of the Pacific Coast Conference. Neither team lost a conference game and they battled to a scoreless tie in their annual game at Berkeley."

with Southern California and Idaho in 1927, had an in and out year."

If you have seen Spalding's annual Football Guide for 1929 you noted this last year's sum-up under the subject, "Football in California."

And if you recall the situation at the start of the 1928 campaign, Stanford was an odds-on favorite with the Trojans rated second and California, with two conference victories in 1927, given only a slight outside chance.

But it was Stanford that failed to live up to the expectation of Pop Warner as the greatest team he ever had. It was the Trojans and the Bears of Berkeley that came through with colors flying.

With the mustering of the clans gix weeks hence there seems to be considerable backwardness about making anybody a favorite this year. It's a cinch Pop Warner will give vent to no more prophecies. Howard Jones is silent in spite of a splendid outlook. Nibs Frice is sawing wood. And the nigger in the woodpile is seen at Washington. Baggy Bagshaw refused to get out, and the reason is evident.

George Varnell, the veteran official, says Baggy will have better material this year than even in the days of the champlonship cleven on which George Wilson starred in 1925.

It's only about six weeks now, folks, so keep a stiff upper lip until the hewgag sounds. And let the chips fall where they may.

DEMOCRACY IN GOLF

NY OLD friend Sherman Paddock is on the warpath again.

And he's harping on a subject that he took up the cudgels in protest against some eight years ago—the award to Del Monte of the choice tourneys such as the State championahip each year, and now the national amateur title meet.

In his splendidly edited magazine, the Country Club, he comments editorially at some length on the situation this month.

He laments the fact that the first opportunity Pacific Coast folk have ever had of seeing Bobby Jones in action the national championahip is to be held on a course that is at least 125 miles removed from its closest seat of population—San Francisco—and that the dearth of accommodations will make it impossible for many people from this city to take it in, plus the fact that the expense is deplorable.

Mr. Paddock suggests it would have been far wiser to hold the tourney in Seattle or in San Francisco or in this city where it would have been possible for the masses to have a taste of the treat.

Mr. Paddock admits he enjoys going to Del Monte. In fact, from a selfah standpoint he says he would rather go there than any other place in the world for a week of golf.

But he deplores what he terms the undemocratic attitude of the URGA, in awarding such a plum as the national amateur golf cham-

But he deplores what he terms the undemocratic attitude of the U.S.G.A. in awarding such a plum as the national amateur golf championship to a purely commercial organization.

Whether you are pro or con, Mr. Paddock's article is wonderfully interesting, and I have a suspicion that it will stir up considerable comment all along the line, which, after all, is the main purpose of all literary affusions.

death of Ray Kirk of Huntington Beach, Dist-Atty. Z. B. West, Jr., announced today. The complaint probably will be filed tomorrow, West said.

Allen Sister, 21, companion of Nava Sunday evening when Kirk was struck down in a roadside encounter near Huntington Beach, also may be charged with murder, and in any event will be held as a material witness, the District Attorney said.

The prosecution's course was decided upon following the Coroner's inquest yesterday, when witnesses testified that the driver of a small roadster, answering the description of one driven by Nava and Sister, had struck Kirk a blow that felled the Huntington Beach man, who was found by the same witnesses as he expired.

Sister and Nava, known to have been at the scene at the time described, but contending that they came across Kirk lying in the roadway and picked him up, told authorities that Nava was driving Sister's car when they reached the point where Kirk was found.

Neither Nava nor Sister has been positively identified as the man who struck Kirk, but the description of the two men observed in the encounter with Kirk is said to check with that of Sister and Nava.

Eleven women and one man, sitting as a jury in the justice court of H. S. Farrell in Alhambra yesterday, found C. G. Stafford, wealthy El Monte merchant, guilty of battery on the person of Rev. R. P. At his home last night Stafford event Hannon, a personal attorney

The verdict of the jury came after a three-minute deliberation on the testimony of nine witnesses, including Shuler, who testified as to the circumstances surrounding an assault on the minister by Stafford in an HI Monte drug store on the afternoon of July 24.

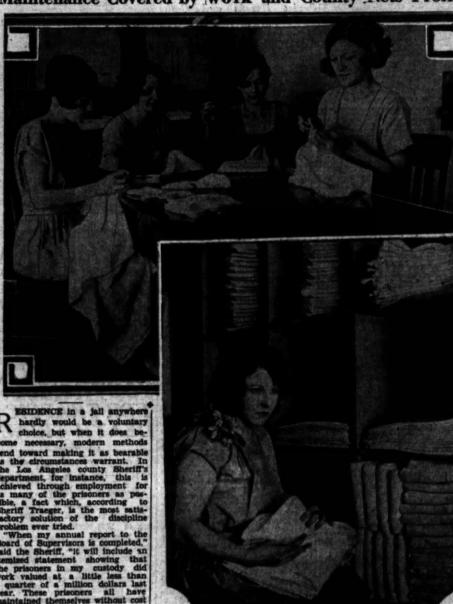

Eight of the witnesses testifying for the prosecution toid of the artions of Shuler, and the detendant just as the affray ceased, while the pastor of Trinity Methodist Church. "THAT WAY TREASON LIES"

A PROCLAMATION

There appears to be a misapprehension as to the position of the police of Boston. In the deliberate intention to intimidate and coerce the government of this commonwealth a large body of policemen, urging all others to join them, deserted their posts of duty, letting in the enemy. This set of theirs was voluntary, against the advice of their well-wishers, long discussed and premeditated, and with the purpose of obstructing the power of the government to protect its citisens or even to maintain its own existence. Its success meant anarchy. By this act through the operation of the law they dispossessed themselves. They went out of office. They stand as though they had never been appointed.

Other police remained on duty. They are the real heroes of this crisis. The State Quard responded most efficiently. Thousands have volunteered for the guard and the militis. Money has been contributed from every walk of life by the hundreds of thousands for the encouragement and relief of these loyal men. These acts have been spontaneous, significant and decisive. I propose to support all those who are supporting their own government with every power which the people have intrusted to me.

There is an obligation, inescapable, no less solemn, to resist all those who do not support the government. The authority of the commonwealth cannot be intimidated or coerced. It cannot be compremised. To place the maintenance of the public security in the hands of a body of men who have attempted to destroy it would be to float the sovereignty of the laws the people have magle. It is my duty to resist any such proposal. Those who would counsel it join hands with those whose acts have threatened to destroy the government. There is no middle ground. Every attempt to prevent the formation of a new police force is a blow at the government. That way treason lies. No man has a right to place his own case or convenience or the opportunity of making money above his duty to the state.

This is the cause of all the people. I call on e

This is the cause of all the people. I call on every citizen to stand by me in executing the oath of my office by supporting the authority of the government and resisting all assaults upon it.

Indian Play Which Piesses Indians

Towlache sings in French, German and Italian as truly as he sings in his native dialect.

Taptuka, another of the Indianshere, came to sing in "My Blossom Bride," Richard Walton Tully's play which was given its premiers here last year. According to our Indianshat is the best Indian play ever written, and they are hoping that soon it will be presented as a sound picture—and that they'll all get jobe in it. For this artistic Indian colony is as Bohemian as any artistic group in the Quartier Latin, inclined to live on the promise of tomorrow even when the proceeds of today are inadequate.

Indians generally have deep voices. The Indian opera has been retarded because they could not find an Indian tenor. But now Soldina, the only Indian Railan known to our colony, has appeared and he is an excellent tenor. An Indian soprano still is lacking. There are mighty baseos, nobile contraitto, resounding baritones, but sopranos and tenors just simply ain't. The whole Indian colony is excited over the discovery of the Indian Italian tenor. He is an Ocage—a member of the tribe which has produced least of value because it is no rich that the Indians do not have to be enterprising. Bellmard, the Kaw who boasts that it is the only tribe with women chiefs and American Vice-Prestdents in its rank; is especially proud of this Ocage boy because he has, he says, overcome the handicap of realith.

tained in the Navy, is a sufficient answer not only to Commander McNutt, but to all questioners of the President's wisdom in ordering suspension of construction of three cruisers of the five in this year's program. Parity with Great Britain has been conceded by the British, the President pointed out, and principles of naval reduction are now being worked out. Under the circumstances, it would be a foolish waste of public funds to continue the cruiser building until the definite basis of parity is knewn.

The probability is that Commander McNutt forget for a moment, as most people are inclined to forget or ignore when the President does something they do not quite understand or which conflicts with their preconceptions, that the President has sources of information not open to the general public, as well as a higher degree of responsibility for the nation's safety than any other individual.

The same remark applies with equal force to Senator Borah, who declares that England should be required to start dinking her warships forthwith; to Senator Hale, who recommends that a shipscrapping program be arranged for England's exclusive use, and to Representative Britten, who says that the way for us to attain parity is not to stop building cruisers, but to build them as fast as possible, at the same time getting. Hamsay MacDonald to halt the British building program.

It may be taken for granted that President Hoover is at least as fully awaps as any of these gentlemen of the present disparity between England and the United States in cruiser strength. It may also be conceded that the President is no dreamy fluorist likely to be taken in by the first smooth-tongued diplomatitus comes along. On the contrary, the President has in the past sufficiently demonstrated hard and practical business sense to justify the bellef that, when he says parity is on the way and will be helped by cruiser-building supension on our part, such is the fact.

The man who is made by the Constitution Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Mavy is charged particularly with the national defense and will be careful not to jeopard that defense by any ill-considered action. Commander McNutt would be the last to deny that a naval accord of all the nations is calculated to further world peace or that an agreement with Great Britain is the most important step toward the reaching of such a general accord. That the Prysident knew that this agreement was searer to being consummated than the general public realised is a reasonable inference from his action.

No eithen can ask more than "complete defense of the United States in any contingency." The nation has no aggressive purpose and those who wish it to have one constitute on small a proportion of the population, if there are, indeed, any, that they are negligible.

The intervance before President Hoover's announcement, but these crities promptly ate their world peace or its defense of the barri

Chief Yowiache is himself an outstanding proof of the fact that the American Indian, if enterprising and aspiring, need be troubled by no inferiority complex. Yowiache is a man of almost regal manner and appearance. He carries himself like a king of fairyland and turns on you eyes which seem as grave and sincere as you ever looked into. He has been the star at many private and public musical entertainments, the latter including the Long Beach exposition last year, the Perris spring festival and Indian ceremonials at the Hollywood Bowl. He has made himself known as one American any other American might be glad to know.

welfare of Los

White Bird is the manager of a cooperative Indian store called the American Indian Art Shop recently opened at 5461 Hollywood Boulevard.
Anita M. Baldwin, White Bird says, has done much to encourage the shop
and has proved herself a great friend of the Indians. To that little shop, which they call "the friendly tapee," all the Indians here, no matter what their tribe, bring their handiwork and the Hopis, Navajos and other Bouthwestern Indians send their surplus products. And there any day one may find half a dozen Indians sitting around—modern Indians who wear gelf trousers and drive motor same—smoking the peace cigarette.

They are singers, dancers, artists—all

Our Indian colony includes a good many netables. Will Rogers is part Indian; so is Monte Blue. Bellmard was captain of Company G. One Hundred and Forty-second Infantry, during the World War and is proud of the fact that of the 12.444 Oklaboma Indians in the World War 87 per cent were volunteers, while only 13½ per cent of the entire army were volunteers. Roan Horse, the Navajo artist, lives here and so do Lou-chaenya, the singer, and Thomas Youngplant, the Hopi dancer. The principal parts in "The First American," to be presented in Albuquerque August 21-24, will be Hollywood Indians and then their shop on Hollywood Boulevard will be closed up, for all the Indians will go to Albuquerque for that pageant.

THE AUGUST METEORS

BY FREDERICK C. LEGNARD, Ph.D.
Of the University of California at Les Angeles
From about the fifth until the middle of August, the Perseid meteors will be visible to observers of the nocturnal sky. A meteor is what is popularly called a "shooting star." The latter term is, however, an objectionable mismomer, for meteors are no more like stars than microbes are like whales. A star is a distant sun—an enormous body like our own sun, but in many instances far superior to ours in size, mass, tamperature and radiating power—while a meteor is veritably a celestial microcosm, a tiny body weighing on the average but a few thousandths of a gram, and visible only after it has dashed into the earth's atmosphere and been heated to incandescence by the frictional resistence which it encounters in its rapid passage through the air.
When one of these minute andestellation in which the radiant body on to the earth's surface of subsequently found and identified, the specimen is called a meteorite and is commonly deposited in a museum.

Meteora, though small are exceedingly numerous—in fact, they are literally counties. On any clear, motoless night a single experienced observer would detect on the average probably from eight to sixteen in every hous of continuous observation. It follows from this fact that at least several and possibly upper house of continuous observation. In spite of the circumstance that the combined mass of possibly 100,000,000 meteors is daily appropriated to that of the earth, the resulting increase in the carth's mass is relatively as a side of the average meteor. about the fair motorist who

That engaging young grand opera singer. Lawrence Tibbett, has at last signed a contract with Metro-G old wyn-Mayer, according to authoritative report received yesterday. He has been undergoing screen and voice tests during the past several weeks and it is said that it was difficult to find just the right vehicle for him, although it is known that two find just the right vehicle for him, although it is known that two find just the right vehicle for him, although it is known that two find just the right vehicle for him, although it is known that two find just the right vehicle for him, although it is known that is anxious to secure his services.

The singer's first effort will be a story called "The Rogue's Song." was written by John Colton and Frances Marion in collaboration. In it Tibbett will take the role of a wandering minstrel, which will give him an opportunity to sing several notable songs. Some of these, it is understood, will be original numbers composed for him, while snatches of grand opera as well as familiar ballads will have a place in the production. So far no leading lady or other member of the cast has been chosen.

Tibbett came first into sensational success here when, singing with Senor Scotti at Philharmonic Auditorium, his audience demanded his appearance on the stage at recall along with the older and at that time more noted singer. Since then Tibbett has sung in the New York Metropolitan Grand Opers productions.

He is purchasing a home here, where he will spend the summer

VALKYR WOMEN RIDE AT BOWL

Concertized Version of Great Work Offered

Mme. Elsa Alsen Fires Crowd With Enthusiasn

loists and Raconteur Give Fine Performances

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES The wild horsewomen of the Valkyr peopled the air of the Hollywood Bowl last night when the vast amphitheater, over two-thirds full, was the scene of a thrilling performance of Wagner's great work. True, it was but a concertised version of the opera without even an orchestral background, but Mine. Elsa Alsen fired the eager thousands with enthusiasm, and by her tremendous magnetism, vocal power and histrionic ability with the splendid support of Paul Althouse as Siegmund, Tudor Williams as Hunding and Blanche Hennion Robinson at the plano, the whole gorgeous story was revealed.

Roland Paul, well-known raconteur of music, told the story of the elemental, stormy drama as Wagner visioned it with his motives of love and misfortune, heroism and stringle against fate.

As the singers, Alsen, Althouse and Williams fared forth on their Journey through the legendary land of Teutonic mythology with Mrs. Robinson valiantly seconding them with the plano, the excitement of the music fairly seethed. Alsen swept all before her and the mighty climax of the battle cry of the Valkyr had to be sung three times before the audience would let her go. Her voice rang out over the hills with a dauntless strength and its defiarice matched the fighting mood of the enormous throng gathered in the Bowl to express their loyalty and devotion to the Bowl ides.

Paul Althouse, the American tenor, played up to the impassioned singing of Mme. Alsen and his voice has not been heard to better advantage here. His style is commanding and authoritative and the poetry of his interpretation will long be remembered.

Tudor Williams, a young basso of Los Angeles, was a surprise in that the merit of his performance and the beauty of his richly resonant voice were hardly to be expected from an almost unknown singer. His nervousness at the opening was quite natural and certainly excusable when the enormous experience of his companion singers and his unfamiliarity with the role are considered. The audience soon felt the innate power of this young man and he garnered a large share of the applause.

Tonight's program is problematical at this writing, but it is rumored that the concert list planned and rehearsed for the Ill-fated Tuesday night program is to be given with full orchestra.

NEW PROCESS FOR FILMS IS SUCCESS

> Third Dimension Picture Developed in East by J. Leo Meehan

Progress of events in the devel opment of the third dimension film and its adaptation to sound may be opment of the third dimension him and its adaptation to sound may be gleaned from personal letters which friends of New York executives receive from the eastern offices. A notable step forward is declared to have been made with the Spoor process which is being developed at the R.-C.-A. Photophone studies in New York, where J. Leo Meehan, formerly a Hollywood director, is doing the practical work.

Recently Meehan directed and filmed the first prologue of a Broadway show to be done on the screen. This is the prologue for the new Earl Carroll revue. "The Sketch Book," current at the Carroll Thester in New York City. Eddle Cantor, now playing in "Whoopee" for Ziegfeid, is the author of the Carroll show and plays a bit and sings a song in the prologue.

In the Meehan prologue Carroll himself is introduced on the screen and tells about his show, introduces on the screen his various principals and members of the chorus during a back-stage rehearsal. Cantor is then introduced in a scene in Carroll's office, where he sings a song he has written for the production. New York has taken kindly to the new stunt, both because of the character of the Spoor production, it is said.

THEATER ORGANIST VISITS HOLLYWOOD

Don George, the young and per-sonable featured organist of the Granada Theater in San Francisco is visiting in Hollywood and enjoying himself with the writing of theme songs and other indispensable music adjuncts to modern entertainment. The young composerorganist is one of the leaders of the theater-music world, and still in his twenties.

His success at the Granada, the State and Sendate theaters in Chicago, the Metropolitan Theater in Brooklyn and other theaters of site and note, is due to a gift, for he began to play and improvise on theater organs when he was 13, but with it all he has a remarkable mechanical understanding of organ possibilities and he is always experimenting.

possibilities and he is always experimenting.

George tooks somewhat Italian with his black eyes and hair and the ease with which he picks a new melody out of the air, harmoniass and presents it, would indicate the Latin fiair for song, but as a matter of fact he is a native son and an organ pupil of Edwin Lemare's. He likes to enjoy audiences as well as organs and for that reason the young musician revels in the continuous supply offered him by the great motion-picture houses rather than to settle down before the console of a church and its comparatively small audience.

It was not the effect of the and touch that made it, is usual with him, but an atompt at mass effect, and as such carried off with fine effect. W. P. Ducey, named a codefendant with Earle, Breitenstein and Ward in one of the indictments, is confined to a Pasadena hospital and is too ill to appear in court, according to investigating officers. His case will be held in abeyance until his recovery, it was reported.

In the indictment naming Ducey, Earle, Breitenstein and Ward defendants, they are accused of defrauding the city of Pasadena out of approximately $40,000 by presenting excessive claims for paving footage on the Linda Vista and Colorado and Avenue 64 contracts.

The other indictment which names Earle, Watson and Hearte defendants, accuses them of obtaining approximately $6336 from Pasadena as cost of cradiing under the west and east side outfall sewers, which investigators assert never was installed. DUCEY IN HOSPITAL
